Authorization for Job Specific Testing

Duke Regional Hospital understands that the essential functions of the employment position must be identified in order to meet the requirements for the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). A job analysis must be completed to quantify the physical demands of the position. This identification will result in the determination of one or more job specific tests associated with the essential functions that will either qualify or disqualify the post-offer or post employment (fit for duty) candidate for the position, with or without reasonable accommodations, if applicable.

For the Position of: Nursing Care Assistant - Special Care Nursery

The Company representative hereby acknowledges the following as valid job specific tests:

Job Specific Test I: Bed Push/Pull: Candidate will demonstrate the ability to push and pull a sled or bed weighted to require 20 lbs/force for 20 ft to simulate moving beds.

Job Specific Test II: IV Unit Carry: Candidate will demonstrate the ability to lift a 14 lb object from a 45" high surface, carry it 20 ft, and place it on a 45" high surface to simulate changing IV units.

Job Specific Test III: Postural Tolerance: Candidate will demonstrate the ability to maintain a squat or half-kneeling position for 1 minute and then transition to a forward bent position for 1 minute while performing an upper extremity task to simulate sustained work postures at waist level or below.

The Company representative hereby acknowledges the following as valid physical requirements:

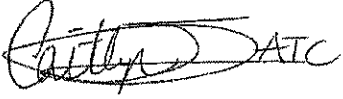

1. Employee lifts 14 lbs occasionally (less than 33% of the time or 1-100 times per day).
2. Employee's position requires pushing/pulling a maximum force of 20 lbs

Safe Lifting Criteria: 12" to knuckle: 14 lbs
