Leadership & Professional Development Opportunities

Course Catalog  ● January - June 2018
WELCOME TO OUR SPRING 2018 CATALOG OF OFFERINGS!

What a wonderful time to be at Duke University and Health System! Duke Learning & Organization Development (L&OD) is pleased to kick-off 2018 by sharing new learning opportunities and intentional paths of development for the enterprise. Learning and Organization Development aims to drive strategic learning and development through the research, instructional design, and facilitation of high impact training and performance solutions that enable individuals, teams, and organizations to achieve extraordinary results in education, research, and patient care.

Learning and Organization Development has added the Executive Assistant of Excellence Level II Certificate. This will allow those participants who completed the Administrative Assistant of Excellence Level I in 2017 to continue their journey toward obtaining the Certified Executive Administrative Professional (CEAP) Designation.

Each year, L&OD facilitates more than 250 workshops and seminars to help employees build upon existing knowledge, learn new skills, and develop core workplace competencies. L&OD offers a comprehensive variety of ongoing professional development workshops, desktop software training classes, cohort-based learning experiences, and organization interventions – all designed to provide Duke employees with highly engaging opportunities to enhance core workplace skills and strengthen operational knowledge.

I encourage you to invest in yourself and become a leader in your own learning. If you haven’t taken a class through Learning and Organization Development or utilized us for your retreat or team development, we hope you will join us this Spring. Your success is Duke’s success.

Best,

Keisha P. Williams, MPA
Assistant Vice President, Learning and Organization Development

Let’s Get Started
Take charge of your career. You have a wealth of professional development opportunities available to you at Duke.

Whether you are seeking leadership or management development, training in the latest technology applications, or professional development, you will find a broad array of options.

Where to Find Us
Learning and Organization Development is located on Duke University’s Central Campus at 402 and 406 Oregon Street, across the parking lot from the Duke Police Station. Oregon Street is off Erwin Road between Duke Hospital and 9th Street, and also off Campus Drive between Anderson Street and Swift Avenue.

Parking
Free parking is available in the lot in front of our buildings at 402 and 406 Oregon Street. Overflow parking is available in the small lot behind building 402 and on the west sides of Alexander and Oregon Streets. The lot beside Duke Police Headquarters and the Episcopal Center is off-limits.

Buses
Duke University “C” buses stop on Campus Drive (5 minute walk) and Alexander Street (diagonally across from our buildings). During the school year, buses run approximately every 10 minutes. The Bull City Connector bus stops near the intersection of Alexander Street and Erwin Road (5 minute walk).
REGISTRATION

Start your journey

Registration is handled within the Duke Learning Management System (LMS) accessible through the Duke@Work self-service website by clicking on “MyInfo,” then “MyCareer,” and finally “MyLearning.”

You can go directly to the Duke LMS or create a favorite link by using the following address in your browser: lms.duhs.duke.edu/Saba/Web/Cloud

For specific instructions and job aids on using the Duke LMS, see: hr.duke.edu/training/learning-management-system

Waitlist

L&OD strongly recommends using the waitlist in the LMS for two reasons:

1. If someone drops the class, the individuals on the waitlist are offered the seat in the order in which they were put on the list.

2. When there are enough participants on the waitlist, we do our best to put another class on the calendar as soon as possible. Those individuals will be invited to participate in the new class before it is open to everyone. L&OD cannot add additional classes, unless we know there continues to be interest.

Payment Information

Payment information is required for classes that have a fee. Many departments can provide time off and/or funds to cover the cost of job-related training. Please check with your supervisor. In your confirmation notice, you will be prompted to provide your payment details. Here, you are able to provide your department’s cost object number (7 digits for the University and 9 digits for the Health System). If an employee does not provide a method of payment prior to an L&OD class to cover the class fee, the default cost center (a.k.a. “fund code”) of the employee’s department will automatically be charged. If you prefer to pay for the class yourself, you may pay with a check or money order, made out to “Duke Learning & Organization Development.” We are not able to accept credit or debit cards. We can provide a payment receipt when you pay by check. Please pay at L&OD’s offices at 402/406 Oregon Street no later than five business days before the class date.

Drop/Cancellation and No-Show Policy

The registration/drop period closes three business days before the course date. Therefore, if you can no longer attend, you must drop the course in the LMS prior to three business days before the course date to have the fee automatically canceled in full.

For example, if your class will be held on Wednesday the 17th, the registration/drop period closes Friday the 12th. Therefore, Thursday the 11th would be the last day that you can register or drop a course. Remember to also account for any official Duke holidays, and be careful with transitions from one month to the next when figuring out your last drop day.

If you do not drop a course before the drop deadline or are a “no-show,” the course fee will be charged. Registration and emergency drop/cancellation in the three-day period before each class are at the discretion of L&OD.
Duke is committed to providing employees with engaging and effective individual growth and professional development opportunities that focus on building and enhancing core competencies and strategic workplace skills. Learning & Organization Development (L&OD) supports this commitment with research, curriculum design, and program facilitation of professional development workshops designed to provide learning experiences and insight that can be immediately applied in the workplace.

Whether you are just beginning your career with Duke University or Duke University Health System, have recently taken on new responsibilities, need to learn new skills, or are seeking opportunities to expand the overall depth and breadth of your professional knowledge, L&OD courses can help you achieve your goals.

Professional Development Courses
These classes help Duke employees build valuable work skills and improve individual performance. Once you have logged into Duke@Work, you can register for classes through the Duke Learning Management System (LMS). You can find professional development classes in the catalog section by following these three steps:

1. Click on “Search the Catalog”
2. Click on “Browse by Category”
3. Click on “L&OD Offerings”
Continuing Education Units (CEU)

You now have the ability to obtain continuing education unit (CEU) credits for Learning and Organization Development courses. In order to obtain CEU credits you must meet the following requirements:

- Participants must sign the roster at the beginning of the session.
- Participants must attend 90% of the session to receive CEU credit.
- If the participant fails to sign in and/or attends less than 90%, he/she will not receive CEU credit for the course.
- Participants must engage fully in classroom activities and satisfactorily complete assignments.
- Participants must complete the learning activity evaluation.

Participants are not required to use, bring, or provide any special materials or technological devices for participation in or completion of classroom activities, unless otherwise notified prior to the session.

Each participant will receive a printed certificate at the conclusion of the class after successful completion.

Participants can print a transcript of the learning activity after the instructor has entered the completion information into the LMS.

Duke University Learning and Organization Development has been approved as an Authorized Provider by the International Association for Continuing Education and Training (IACET), 1760 Old Meadow Road, Suite 500, McLean, VA 22102.

For more information about IACET and which organizations accept IACET CEUs, visit IACET.org. IACET encourages individuals to check with their specific regulatory boards or professional organizations to confirm that the CEUs received from courses taken from IACET Authorized Providers will be accepted.
The Star Achievement Series® is a program for administrative office professionals developed by international trainer, coach, and author, Joan Burge. Joan is also the founder and CEO of Office Dynamics International. Duke is excited to bring the program to our administrative professionals. This program is intended to build upon the professional’s current administrative competencies by focusing on four areas: skill, attitude, teamwork, and strategy. Star Achievers synergize these four components into their everyday professional performance and, over time, fully develop as leaders who exhibit confidence at work, at home, and in the community. This is the basis for a Star Achiever’s strong reputation of excellence.

The series includes two certificate programs and one designation:

◆ Level I – Administrative Assistant of Excellence
  Participant attends four Level I core classes

◆ Level II – Executive Assistant of Excellence
  Participant attends four Level II core classes

◆ Certified Executive Administrative Professional (CEAP) Designation
  Participants must complete Level I and Level II certificate programs; complete a competency checklist; and complete the designation application at the conclusion of the program.

Administrative Assistant of Excellence I

Module 1: Be a Star Achiever (Attitude Component)

Facilitator: Dinetta Richardson
Date & Time: (1 Offering)
Offering 1: (1 day)
January 9, 2018, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Location: 402 Oregon St. Shaner Room
Cost: $130.00

Professional attitude is one of the most important skill sets for an administrative professional. The person in this role is the face of the department and is the primary organizer of the various activities of the department manager. This requires the ability to have strong interpersonal skills and be able to communicate with confidence.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Compare different types of common challenging personalities
- Identify ways to manage interactions with challenging personality types
- Identify ways to leverage criticism and overcome intimidation

CEU Credits: 0.6

Administrative Assistant of Excellence I

Module 2: Star-Achieving Techniques (Skill Component)

Facilitator: Dinetta Richardson
Date & Time: (1 Offering)
Offering 1: (1 day)
February 1, 2018, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Location: 402 Oregon St. Shaner Room
Cost: $130.00

If you are going to sustain your success in the administrative profession and be a rising star, you must embrace the idea that core competencies are vital. This module explores different strategies to improve the skill set of the administrative professional. The class also explores ways to identify and leverage administrative strengths.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Define the foundational competencies of administrative professionals
- Compare the differences between being a task doer and cognitive being
- Construct a model to improve task management
- Develop an action plan for skill development

CEU Credits: 0.6
Administrative Assistant of Excellence I

Module 3: Building a Star Partnership (Teamwork Component)

Facilitator: Gina Rogers

Date & Time: (1 Offering)

Offering 1: (1 day)
March 23, 2018, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room

Cost: $130.00

In your position, you are privy to strategic information, planning strategies, and knowledge that other employees are not. Often much of your day involves deciding what tasks must be done first, how to approach individuals on behalf of your leader, reacting quickly to your leader’s changing ‘to do’ list and so much more. Together, you and your leader are responsible for leveraging your combined strengths while minimizing shortcomings. This requires a strong partnership and clarity around roles and responsibilities.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
● Discuss and bring into congruence the perceptions and expectations of each task assignment, as viewed by the leader and administrative professional
● Identify the effectiveness of current tasks
● Discuss ways to improve communication and collaboration with leaders and departmental teams

CEU Credits: 0.6

Administrative Assistant of Excellence I

Module 4: Star–Reaching Stardom (Strategy Component)

Facilitator: Gina Rogers

Date & Time: (1 Offering)

Offering 1: (1 day)
April 16, 2018, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room

Cost: $130.00

Although some people may compromise or settle for less, Star Achievers want more, do more, and become more. Each person has uncharted territories to explore and discover. This module is focused on identifying ways you can achieve your personal and professional goals.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
● Identify the primary values that tie to professional goals
● Identify ways to cultivate business relationships
● Discuss the component of developing a professional brand

Executive Assistant of Excellence Level II
Module 1: Be a Shining Star (Attitude Component)

Facilitator: Dinetta Richardson or Gina Rogers
Date & Time: (2 Offerings)
Offering 1: (1 day)
January 16, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Offering 2: (1 day)
January 30, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room
Cost: $130.00

The administrative assistant’s role has become complex and increasingly demanding, as the emphasis has shifted to multifunctional, generalized performance. The administrative professional is being asked to do more work, fulfill broader organizational roles, support multiple managers, and still maintain high levels of quality. As a result, interpersonal skills and the ability to manage one’s thoughts and behaviors are imperative.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Identify events or conditions at work that cause the greatest amount of stress
- Describe four categories of stress indicators
- Apply nine strategies for building consensus
- Identify strategies for success in the five pillars of life: career, family, financial, spiritual, and wellness

CEU Credits: 0.6

Executive Assistant of Excellence Level II
Module 2: Give a Stellar Performance (Skill Component)

Facilitator: Dinetta Richardson or Gina Rogers
Date & Time: (2 Offerings)
Offering 1: (1 day)
February 7, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Offering 2: (1 day)
February 21, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room
Cost: $130.00

You present yourself to others constantly. You make connections by telephone, e-mail, and via social media. You send visual messages to individuals you approach. Every day you come in contact with many people: co-workers, customers, vendors, and other professionals. Your personal presentation style and speaking ability will either enhance or detract from your message. Equally important is the ability to communicate your needs assertively, but not aggressively. Your ability to communicate clearly with others can be one of your best business assets.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Describe personal presentation and how it enhances or detracts from the point one must make
- Build a speech using one of the three types of writing methods
- Construct strategies to improve self-presentation and identify areas of improvement
- Practice persuasion skills

CEU Credits: 0.6
Executive Assistant of Excellence Level II

Offering 2: (1 day)
March 20, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room

Cost: $130.00

Collaboration brings holistic energy. Instead of working in silos, which seems to be the case for many assistants, seek to work with your administrative peers. Doing so will make you well-rounded, full, universal, complete, all-inclusive, and whole. Instead of you trying to figure out everything on your own, wasting precious time and energy, you could be increasing your productivity and experiencing better outcomes. That should motivate you to increase your “hope quotient” by respecting the diversity of your teammates and leveraging the power of working together.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Explain the difference between teamwork and collaboration
- Apply the concepts of synergy to administrative professionals working in partnership with their peers
- Identify five powerhouse strategies for creating peer power

CEU Credits: 0.6

Executive Assistant of Excellence Level II
Module 4: Future Focused Star Performer (Strategy Component)

Facilitator:
Dinetta Richardson or Gina Rogers

Date & Time: (2 Offerings)

Offering 1: (1 day)

Offering 2: (1 day)
April 10, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room

Cost: $130.00

Thriving on change is critical to personal and professional success. Today’s Star-Performing professionals pay close attention to emerging work and cultural trends so they can prepare for success and remain relevant. Trends in office technology, workforce diversity, job pressure, virtual employment, and high-quality requirements can and will impact productivity, effectiveness, and the company’s bottom line. As organizations continue to experience change, they need administrative professionals who embrace the need for high-quality performance and efforts to streamline work.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes lecture, handouts, skills demonstration and practice, case studies, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Identify methods for preparing skills and attitudes for the future
- Describe twelve proven strategies for optimizing change
- Identify nine habits of effective leadership

February 22 & 23, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
(You must attend both days.)

Offering 2: (2 days)
April 2 & 3, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
(You must attend both days.)

Offering 3: (2 days)
June 28 & 29, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
(You must attend both days.)

Location: 402 Oregon St. Shaner Room

Cost:
Take part in this internationally recognized program offered for half the price of the public sessions offered through Vital Smarts. Please go to the LMS for additional information about the value of attending Crucial Conversations®. If you still have questions, please contact L&OD.

We all face situations where things are tense and saying the right thing is crucial. Whether you are approaching a supervisor who is breaking his or her own policies or a peer who is criticizing a colleague’s work, or talking to a team member who isn’t keeping commitments, keeping the conversation productive can be very difficult.

Course Format:
Crucial Conversations® Training infuses fourteen hours of classroom time with more than 60 original video clips of “before and after” situations. Enjoy video-based instruction from the authors of Crucial Conversations®: Tools for Talking When Stakes are High. Engage in extensive in-class practice, group participation, and personal reflection as you explore and master these crucial skills.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Recall the eight steps of a crucial conversation
- Apply the conversation model to speak persuasively, not abrasively
- Devise a script to resolve individual and group disagreements

CEU Credits: 1.2
Critical Thinking Skills: Strategies for Improving Critical Thinking in the Workplace

Facilitator: Dinetta Richardson or Gina Rogers

Date & Time: (2 Offerings)

Offering 1: (1 day)
April 23, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Offering 2: (1 day)
June 18, 2018, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Location: 402 Oregon St. Shaner Room

Cost: $130.00

Critical thinking is something everyone does in their professional and personal lives. Almost all of your everyday activities require you to seek information, analyze and assess the alternatives, and reach some conclusion. The challenge to critical thinking is being able to reality test every situation and apply the appropriate strategy to the appropriate situation. This class offers strategies to resolve situations and make decisions that lead to an effective conclusion.

Course Format:
This hands-on workshop includes lecture, self-reflection, skills practice, case studies, and instructional DVDs to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
◆ Identify habits that create barriers to critical thinking
◆ Demonstrate the three steps to the critical thinking process
◆ Appraise situations to identify gaps in critical thinking

Presentation skills are essential to every employee’s success as a leader, an innovator, and persuader. Both verbally and nonverbally, we are always presenting who we are and what we stand for when we work with others. If we want to have others listen to us, we need to articulate our message in a way that our listener can hear. We will develop 10-minute presentations on Day 1 and deliver them to the class on Day 2.

Course Format:
This active workshop includes lecture, a seven-step model for writing an effective presentation, skills practice, and guided discussions to reinforce the learning. Please note: Participants must use personal time between Day 1 and Day 2 to finish creating their 10-minute presentation to deliver to class participants on Day 2.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Prepare and deliver a 10-minute presentation
- Illustrate the verbal and nonverbal skills required for holding an audience’s attention
- Assess ways to reduce presentation anxiety and improve presentation delivery

Learning doesn’t always have to take place in a classroom - a great deal of teaching and learning is done over the Internet. Learning happens when the participants are actively engaged in the material and the interaction. Over the course of two days, participants will explore best practices for creating interesting, engaging, and effective live training online. Using a team approach, participants will get hands-on experience in all aspects of writing, facilitating, and producing online learning. The prerequisite for this course is Train the Trainer 1: The Basics of Training.

Course Format:
This interactive workshop includes a webinar, lecture, small group hands-on lab to design a webinar, video examples, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Compare the differences between online learning and instructor led training
- Create and facilitate a 30 minute module for effective online training
- Incorporate online facilitation skills that require the participation of every learner

Cost: $130.00

When something goes wrong, do you tend to bounce back or fall apart? How do you handle stress? When you have resilience, you harness inner strength that helps you rebound from a setback or challenge. Resilience won't make your problems go away — but it can give you the ability to see past them, find enjoyment in life, and better handle stress. This class offers strategies to help you become more resilient when stress, adversity, or trauma strikes by identifying ways for you to function more effectively — both physically and psychologically. Please come dressed in casual, comfortable attire.

Course Format:
This hands-on workshop includes lecture, self-reflection, skills practice, and guided discussion to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Identify ways to move from mindless to mindful thinking
- Discuss the importance of cognitive reframing to better manage stress, change, and hardships
- Practice relaxation techniques to refresh and re-energize

Successful supervisors have developed the knowledge and skills to work with people. During the morning session, participants will review the supervisory role at Duke and learn a conversation model for managing performance. During the afternoon, participants will learn skills for giving and receiving feedback. This is a primary competency needed by all managers and supervisors. Even experienced staff are challenged by this process. Enhancing and practicing these skills contributes to the learner’s professional development and to the success of the organization. L&OD strongly recommends participating in the companion workshop, Fundamentals of Coaching, after completing this course.

Course Format:
This hands-on workshop includes lecture, pair and skills practice, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Identify the performance development needs of their staff
- Practice the communication strategies of effective managers
- Recognize the barriers to giving and receiving effective feedback
- Practice the Situation-Behavior-Impact (SBI) model for giving positive and developmental feedback

(You must attend both days.)

Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room
Cost: $130.00

This course is designed for those individuals already in a managerial/leadership role.

For employees to be engaged in their work, they must grow in both knowledge and skills. Managers want employees to reach higher levels of performance. But how do supervisors and managers learn to lead? What kind of coaching does a supervisor/manager need from his or her manager? This workshop will address why developing leaders through a coaching relationship is so important. We will explore several coaching methods and the competencies they require. The session will provide opportunities for developing your leadership philosophy through coaching. Start thinking about your leadership journey now. Prerequisite: Fundamentals of Coaching must be taken prior to this course.

Course Format:
This hands-on workshop includes lecture, pair and skills practice, case studies, self-reflection, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
- Recall the five-step model in leadership coaching
- Practice leadership coaching conversations
- Develop a leadership philosophy

May 24, 2018, 8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.
Location: 402 Oregon St.
Shaner Room
Cost: $130.00

With the rise of telecommuting and dispersed work forces, most leaders have likely experienced the challenge and opportunity of leading a hybrid team. How can you balance your attention between the people who are physically in the same location as you and those you may rarely (or never) see? How can you ensure that you consistently communicate with every member of your team? How do you build company culture using online technology? Come explore these questions – and more – offering valuable, actionable tips to enhance your effectiveness in leading your hybrid team.

Course Format:
This hands-on workshop includes lecture, pair and skills practice, and guided small and large group discussions to reinforce the learning. Part of the afternoon session will be taught via live, WebEx Trainer and other technical supportive tools managers can use to stay in contact with dispersed direct reports on a daily basis.

At the conclusion of the course, participants will be able to:
◆ Identify the level of performance support each of their employees need
◆ Practice the unique communication skills required when using technology (i.e., WebEx, Skype, Duke Box, SharePoint, etc.)
◆ Identify and remove the barriers to giving effective feedback, direction, and support at a distance
◆ Identify ways to facilitate the relationship-building between their remote and local employees through virtual staff meetings

Certificates of Excellence

Learning & Organization Development’s certificate programs are the perfect way to thoroughly explore the depth and breadth of a particular subject area. Core workshops within each program are designed to help maximize your success through the introduction of new skills and knowledge. With a focus on leveraging your current experience and understanding, while also providing you with additional insight and perspective, core workshops help prepare you to get the most from your professional development, growth, and success.

Certificate program elective requirements (where applicable) can be met by choosing from any of Learning and Organization Development’s (L&OD) Professional Development sessions. This flexibility allows you to design a highly personalized learning program. With the wide variety of workshops currently available, and with new workshops being added each year, it will be easy to choose from a multiplicity of offerings, making your professional development a high priority.

Choosing to pursue one of L&OD’s certificate programs demonstrates to your leaders and your colleagues an ongoing interest in, and commitment to, continuous learning and professional growth. When considering which certificate program may be right for you, we encourage you to discuss the options and your career development interests with your manager or supervisor.

Professional Development Excellence Certificate Opportunities

Learning & Organization Development has partnered with teaching and research faculty, administrative faculty, and industry-leading training providers to offer a comprehensive variety of ongoing professional development workshops and seminars. These programs are designed to provide Duke employees with highly engaging opportunities to increase core business knowledge and develop critical professional skills.

Professional Development Excellence Certificate opportunities are open to all Duke employees and are available in several disciplines based on specific area(s) of professional responsibility. Certificate tracks include both core requirements and elective requirements. There is no requirement that you complete a certificate in a certain amount of time; however, we encourage you to take at least two courses each year until it is completed.

- Chosen courses must be at least one-day-long instructor led class
- The participant’s manager/supervisor should be involved in the identification and selection of at least one of the elective workshops
- Completed workshops will be credited toward the Certificate Program identified by the participant
- Completed workshop electives cannot be used to meet elective qualifications for multiple certificates
- You may use any core workshop to meet elective requirements for your specific L&OD certificate; however once workshops are used as electives, they may not be used again in another certificate

Professional Development Trainers’ Network (PDTN)

This Network consists of Duke University and Health System faculty and staff who are responsible for developing employees through professional development or educational programs within their departments, or for the Duke community. Members of the Network come together to identify and promote professional development opportunities and resources for trainers, educators, and facilitators.

As a community of practice 60+ members strong, we will gather to share best practices in training and design, as well as current trends in learning and professional development. We would be delighted to have you join us on the following dates and times:

Advanced Development for Duke’s Managers and Leaders

Duke Leadership Academy

The Duke Leadership Academy offers emerging leaders from across the university the opportunity to participate in a unique 12-month development initiative based on the Fuqua/Coach K Center on Leadership & Ethics (COLE) leadership model. The curriculum includes a focus on leadership and management styles and behaviors to implement strategy. Participation in the program is highly selective and based on nominations by Duke’s vice presidents and deans. Those selected to participate learn from senior-level leaders and stakeholders at Duke. Learning takes place in the classroom, through 360° assessments, practical application, and coaching.

Benefits for Participants

◆ Enhance awareness of leadership competencies
◆ Strengthen leadership competencies and skills
◆ Gain access to thought leaders from across the university
◆ Practice giving and receiving behavioral feedback
◆ Create an individual leadership development plan
◆ Learn best practices for assessing and developing talent
◆ Address real issues facing Duke
◆ Network with other talented rising leaders who have also been recognized for their strong potential
◆ Enjoy collegial participation in a university program
◆ Increase engagement and commitment to Duke
Guide to Managing at Duke

Guide to Managing at Duke is a three-day program that prepares and equips Duke University and Duke University Health System managers to meet changing strategic, operational, and work culture objectives through effective managerial practices. Built on the Situational Leadership II Model, program participants will develop and enhance skills and perspectives that are essential for managers and leaders. This is accomplished using interactive skill practice, engaged discussion, and other learning methods as we work through the human resources cycle:

- Recruitment and selection
- Onboarding
- Performance management
- Building a positive work culture
- Diversity and inclusion
- Managing change

Schedule & Registration:

1. Approval from department leadership is required; please first consult with your supervisor/manager.

2. Please contact the HR representative for your area to find out when the next Guide to Managing at Duke is scheduled. You may also contact Michelle Jones at Learning & Organization Development, michelle.jones@duke.edu or (919) 613-7600.

ORGANIZATION DEVELOPMENT & CONSULTING SERVICES

The first step in engaging our services is to contact a member of our team for an initial consultation. If you’re not sure what you need, that’s okay - that’s why we’re here.

Our philosophy is to facilitate organizational transformation, partnering with you in a way that keeps you engaged in the process and provides you with the knowledge and skills to support ongoing development once we conclude our work together.

For more details about any of these services, please visit:
hr.duke.edu/training/consulting-organization-development
or contact the Assistant Vice President, Keisha Williams, MPA, at 919-613-7600 to schedule an initial consultation.
Every organization is a system - a system of people working together to achieve common goals. These goals may include production goals, service commitments, research and development targets, and/or educational objectives. Development strategies come with challenges to both leaders and teams: goal development and buy-in, role definition, process management, defining and implementing policies and procedures, and building and sustaining productive relationships. We partner with you to identify and implement robust solutions that will increase your organization's overall effectiveness.

You may be looking to lead your team or department to a new level of strategy and functioning. Maybe you are experiencing challenges and are unable to identify the root cause of the problem. Perhaps you see a new opportunity on the horizon, and you need everybody on board to pursue it.

Whatever your needs, we will work with you to systematically identify the strengths and opportunities in your organization and develop a customized solution designed to best address your situation and goals. We provide guidance and resources at each step along the way.

- Advancing organizational climate
- Customized learning workshops
- Executive & leadership coaching
- Focus group facilitation
- Leading & navigating change
- Meeting facilitation
- Process improvement
- Strategic planning
- Survey design & administration
- Team effectiveness
Learning and Organization Development (L&OD) focuses on developing, improving, and sustaining organizations and teams. Our experienced practitioners consult with you and assess your needs, and then research, design, deliver, and evaluate learning solutions. Our areas of expertise include strategic planning and implementation, organizational assessments, change management, competency development, team development, performance improvement, and retreat design and facilitation around organizational priorities.

Strategic Planning & Implementation
Gain a deep appreciation for the components of strategic planning and implementation in order to achieve strategic results. Develop leaders’ knowledge, skills, and behaviors so you can effectively utilize key components of strategic planning for best results: external environment, strategic intent, innovation, business model, processes, organization design, workforce talent, and culture.

Organizational Assessments
Understand and apply tools such as interviews, focus groups, surveys, and assessments to identify and address key issues and opportunities for improving your team, department, or organization.

Change Management
Collaborate with teams and organizations to design, develop, and deliver a change management and leadership plan to respond to external or internal changes impacting the team or organization.

Competency Development
Partner with managers to identify required core competencies (knowledge, skills, & behaviors) for individuals to achieve business and organizational goals.

Meeting Facilitation
Partner with managers in their planning sessions for important upcoming meetings and when the stakes are high, we facilitate the session allowing you to fully participate.

Customized Workshops
Adapt open enrollment classes or create new workshops for teams, departments, or entities – optimizing the time teams are away from work.

Executive & Leadership Coaching
Organization-wide concerns, as well as individual customer needs, brings significant responsibility. Partner with executives and leaders to ensure success no matter the goal.

Professional Coaching
Ask any athlete, and you will likely hear that an athletic coach brings out the best in you in support of the team goal. The same is true for a professional coach! Learning & Organization Development offers confidential, ongoing executive, leadership, and professional coaching services to meet the developmental and performance goals for each staff level at Duke. Customized coaching packages offer a right-sized approach to helping leaders reach and exceed their goals. By leveraging the support and guidance of a coach, leaders transition from where they are to where they want to be.

Who benefits from working with a professional coach?
- Staff transitioning to roles of increased responsibility
- Staff who need to learn new ways to work
- Those who need to shift their workplace dynamics
- Staff tasked with leading and managing change
- Those looking to grow their career
- Staff who need a trusted, fresh perspective and guidance
- Those who could benefit from an accountability partner
What is the value of working with a coach?

- Build awareness of how to shift from tactical to strategic mindset
- Enhance role alignment
- Gain knowledge and skills about how to effectively lead with and through others
- Increase productivity and business impact
- Learn leadership skills required to function as a business partner
- Expand learning capability
- Reduce stress
- Increase flexibility and adaptability
- Increase focus
- Gain an accountability partner focused on the impact for you and the division/department
- Increase job satisfaction
- Increase retention

Fees
The initial consultation is provided at no cost to you. After our consultation, if you decide to engage our services, our fee is $150 per hour. Although we are a fee-for-service operation, as an internal department serving the greater Duke community, our fees are priced well below market value as compared to external providers offering similar services. In addition, you will benefit from working with professionals who are not only well-versed in the field of organization development and effectiveness, but are also familiar with the operation of higher education and health systems.

Contact Us
L&OD has worked with more than 100 departments and administrative units from across Duke University and Duke University Health System. All services are customized to meet the specific needs of your organization. The first step in engaging our services is to meet with a member of our team to discuss your situation and goals. If you are not sure what you need, that’s okay - that’s why we’re here. We will discuss the challenges or opportunities you have identified and recommend a plan to achieve your goals by utilizing our research-based resources and proven consulting services. Your Career at Duke

This workshop includes three one-hour sessions held on three separate evenings. First, we will explore “Conducting an Effective Job Search at Duke.” An active job search is much more than a resume posted online at hr.duke.edu/jobs. Understanding job descriptions, networking, and how to identify the right jobs are keys to being successful in your search. Next we will examine “Recruitment and Transfer Processes,” here at Duke as they pertain to current Duke employees. Finally, we will look at “Resumes at Duke: Facts and Myths,” and we will coach you on techniques for writing a strong resume. After the last session, you may visit the HR website to schedule an appointment with a Professional Development Specialist. You must attend all three sessions within Offerings 1 or 2.

Documenting Employee Performance
Addressing work performance issues is one of the most challenging responsibilities that managers have. Documenting performance is an essential component of this process. Explore two types of documentation that managers and supervisors use for performance management.

Objectives:
◆ Review the necessity for record-keeping and organizational compliance
◆ Practice documentation
◆ Review additional resources

Offering 1   April 27, 2018   8:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. (4 hrs)   402 Oregon St., Shaner Room
